MEDICINAL.

Consumption Cured. THE JUDGE OF HANOVER COUNTY SPEAKS.

Tim. Howard suffered for three years with lung and throat troubles, and last spring was thought by his neighbors to be dying. I heard of his condition and gave him A. B. C. Tonic. Its effect was magical. In a very short time he was able to leave his bed, and now regards himself a well man. Others in this vicinity have taken the "Tonio" with pronounced benefit.

Very respectfully,

Lots of Waterspouts

"On the morning of April 29 the ship was in latitude 33° 55', longitude 72° heading northwest under light canvas. The weather was very squally, but the sea was well beaten down by a heavy fall of rain, which had just ceased. It was just 7:30 c'clock in the morning and my watch on deck. The weather looked very threatening. The waterspout was first seen in the west-porthwest, about two miles distant. It locked then like a rain squal. As it got nearer the terrific noise of the boiling and splushing water attracted attention, and in a few sec-onds all were wild. The belm was put hard over to bring the ship off on the wind, but having very little speed on owing to the light winds, she was slow to answer the helm. Nearer and nearer came the huge volume of water. It locked like a heavy dark cloud. Such was the excitement among the crew that some of the men stood entranced, crying that they would face death on their feet. The spout struck our stem and passed off. It was wonderful that it did no great damage. It disappeared in the east. At the base of the spout the sea was terribly agitated, and it made the impression on the sea that a plough would on land. The water in its wake heaped up like soapsuds, end was scattered at a great height."

The three-masted schooner Henry Waddington, Capt. Megee from Havana, had a similar experience on April 30, when in latitude 31° 12′, longitude 78° 45′. The weather was squally, with occasional thun der and lightning. Toward ucon five tre-mendous waterspouts loomed up in the west all pursuing the same course, due east, di-rectly in the line with the schooner. The down into his cabin, got his gun, and fired down into his cabin, got his gun, and fired several shots into it as it approached. "I had heard it would break the force of a waterspout," said Capt. Meges, "but it had no effect on it whatever." The spout passed clear of the vessel, but had it struck her access goald ever have lived to tell the no one would ever have lived to tell the

The Gertrude Abbott, from Havens, also passed a number of waterspouts.

Mesmerism that Stuck

Then, after supper, he left home for a short walk. While he was out, a spail, such as had repeatedly visited him since a of the neighborhood had tried to convert him from his faith in Protestantism, came upon him again, and he involuntably wandered away from home. All night long he journeyed through the mountain regions, out doors by night when he slept at all, and for eight days did not partake of food, wandering almlessly through Watsontown, MI' ton, Northumberiand and to Sunbury, where the speil being broken he purchased a railroad ticket and returned home. His brothers had in the meantime become thoroughly alarmed at his absence, and had searched the neighborhood for miles around

Henry's brother, describing the imparting of the spell, says it was after his brothers and sisters had objected to the proselyting woman continuing to try to shake their faith in the Bible that she walked to Hen-ry's side of the room, with her different Bible in hand, made a few passes about bis head, and tapped him on the shoulder, when Henry jumped to his feet, and, al-though he has no learning, began quoting Scripture and defending the religion of the woman. The woman, after he had finished his defense of her bellef, read a few passages from her version of St. John and departed, leaving him under her spail.
